

BARBARA GRAVER

Catholic Writer, Podcaster & Publication Designer

ABOUT ME

I'm a Catholic writer and designer with a past history in the New Age and occult. I have been blogging and podcasting for over 10 years across several different platforms. I write Catholic friendly paranormal fiction and religious booklets for my Etsy shop. I have been interviewed on podcasts, internet TV and local radio and love all types of media so please reach out via email at barbaragraver@yahoo.com if you think I might be a good fit for your show.

ABOUT MY MEDIA

I started blogging and podcasting in 2010 with the popular metaphysical blog, "The Mystic Review." In 2017, I shut down the blog and made my way back to my Catholic Faith. I now talk about faith, media and more both on my blog and on the "Paranormal Review" podcast - which can be found on most popular podcast apps. I also post all my media to my author website and to YouTube. My free and upcoming ebooks are available through my website. I hope to also my full length testimony ebook available through my Etsy shop when it is finished. For now, a short form of my testimony is available for free on my website.

CATHOLIC BOOK AND CARD

I started my etsy shop in 2020 during the COVID19 lockdown. I began by creating printable prayer cards using traditional Catholic prayers and artwork and then branched out into prayer pamphlets and coffee mugs. I will be making my testimony ebook available through the shop and have just opened a second shop for my paranormal fiction and related printables.

CATHOLIC PARANORMAL FICTION

The last thing fae tracker, Miranda O'Malley, wants to do is repeat the past – and agreeing to let her ex, vampire, Nick Markovich, join the search for 17 year old Ashley Clements does not change that fact. But there's more to Ashley's disappearance than meets the eye and, as the pair instigate her involvement in a series of brutal murders, Miranda realizes that nothing – past or present – is quite what it seems..

NONFICTION TESTIMONY

"Angels of Dark and Light" is the long form of my personal testimony. In it I talk about my deep dive into the occult, what I learned there and why I returned to my Catholic faith. I discuss both angels and demons and my experiences with them from a traditional Catholic perspective. To learn more, please visit BarbaraGraver.com/ebooks.
